

Eco-Printing Workshop for ADC Students

The students of Apparel Design and Construction (ADC) participated in a workshop on Eco-Printing specially organised for them at Institute of Home Economics (IHE) on Friday, 25th October 2024. This hands-on workshop introduced the students the technique of printing through natural flowers, leaves, and twigs etc. on pre-mordanted fabrics to produce unique and sustainable designs.

The workshop received enthusiastic participation and feedback from the students, who are now inspired to try eco-printing on silk and other natural fabrics in their future projects. The workshop was coordinated by Dr. Rachna Mohan and was conducted by Dr. Noopur Sonee at IHE.
